Consultation Meeting Request Form

One of the many benefits of having an association for Indiana's education foundations is networking and sharing with like-minded/like-missioned groups. INAPEF members have always been eager and willing to share ideas and experiences with other education foundations and many believe the sharing brings fresh perspectives to the "seasoned" organization for mutually beneficial exchanges.

INAPEF offers an "Ask INAPEF" discussion board for members to pose a question via email to the rest of the membership for samples, advice and learnings. However, sometimes a telephone call or in-person meeting is needed for more in-depth discussion.

If your education foundation (or group working to form an education foundation) is interested in talking with another education foundation leader, please complete this form and INAPEF will help arrange a consultation – free of charge! The information here will provide data to help get the right individual connected to you. Further discussion about specific details can be shared with the consultant. This opportunity is provided based on the availability of INAPEF members.
